

Statement from Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, Alphonsus Cullinan on the Sealing of the Archives from the Mother and Baby Homes Investigation:

“The Commission of Investigation into the Mother and Baby Homes is a very serious matter; the full truth needs to come out. We must not be afraid of the truth. Where wrong has occurred, this must be fully acknowledged. The recent decision to seal the records for 30 years has caused a lot of pain and anguish. I hope that the full truth will emerge from this investigation and due care be given to all the facts so that the past can be acknowledged, and hope given for the future.”
